

The area around Greenwich – page 1

This document is intended to be an adjunct to the pages on the web site about the area around Greenwich.

The numbers on the maps are not intended to give an order of visiting but just to enable labelling. You decide on your own route. Underground stations are labelled in blue lettering and station entrances are marked with a blue square somewhere near the title. For example – on the first map in the top left corner is the label for 'Island Gardens' station, on the Docklands Light Railway, with the blue block marking the entrance just below.

Key to the labels:

1. Northern entrance to the foot tunnel.
2. Southern entrance to the foot tunnel.
3. Old Royal Naval College including the Painted Hall and Chapel.
4. Old Royal Observatory and Greenwich Meridian.
